THE SECOND GIRL BANDIT FOR CITY OF PHILADELPHIA

Philadelphia, March h. — (United Press).—Philadelphia's second girl bandit made her appearance here early today when a modishly dressed bobbed hair flapper, aided by a young male companion, held up a laundry wagon driver in the downtown district and escaped with $18.

The robbery took place as this city's first girl bandit knelt in a cell in the city hall and prayed that the patrolman shot by her male companion would recover so that she would not be faced with a murder charge.

A STATE BODY IS FUNCTIONING

$50,000 WORTH OF OPIUM HIDDEN UNDER THE FLOOR

Philadelphia, March 1. — (United Press).—Fifty thousand dollars worth of opium, hidden under the floor and behind secret panels about the walls, was taken here today in a sensational police raid on Chinatown. Ten Chinese drug addicts were arrested.

The crime came after several weeks planning, as the place was known to be a distributing center for the drug as well as the habitat of smokers. As the police descended upon the building, several hundred Orientals gathered along the streets to watch the raiders.

The smoking rooms were on the second and third floors and the police dashed up the stairs and into them before the Chinese could make their exit. Opium was found in every conceivable place.

Harrisburg, March 1. — (United Press).—The Public Service Commission has completed a survey of present power facilities in Pennsylvania and has submitted data to the Giant Power Survey for computation of cost involved in development of an interconnecting system extending completely across the state.

It is understood here that any program of power development to provide more adequate service to consumers must be based on greater facilities for exchanging electric current.

Interchanging of electricity is practiced only on a small scale, according to engineers working on the plan, where large companies have eliminated competition that stood as a barrier to development of a giant power program so far as utilities are concerned.

The cost of such development for the entire state has always stood in the way of complete interchange of high tension transmission facilities, it was learned. It is hoped by careful computation the cost compared with the degree of service will show public utilities the ultimate necessity for such development.

Pennsylvania is said to be on the threshold of the greatest electric power development in its history Eleven new stations are under construction and, it is said, will be completed in 1924. Eight of these will be operated by steam and the remaining three by water.

The present program, as recommended by the Public Service Commission, might be carried out by the condition for granting of charters that full interchange of power will be provided

Engineers from all principal power companies of the state contributed to preparation of data and the map survey furnished to the Giant Power Board by the commission It was assembled, however, by engineers of the commission and submitted at the recent meeting of the board in Harrisburg.

Ohio Team Is To Come Here This Evening

The Steubenville High School girls will be here tonight to play a return game with the local girls' basketball team It will be, without a doubt, the speediest and most exciting game our girls have played here or abroad this year. Steubenville has one of the fastest and best girls' teams in Ohio, and our girls' record is one to be proud of Only once has the local team been beaten by a Pennsylvania team. Last Friday Duquesne beat them in a close game, but our girls had previously beaten Duquesne 16-6 on the home floor

Even though defeated once our girls stand a splendid chance to win the championship None of the other teams competing have gone through the season undefeated. And none have to their record only one defeat by as close a score as ours.

Even though Steubenville did defeat our girls in a pre-season game, the local team will stand a good chance for the victory tonight If they are given the right backing there is little doubt as to the outcome. The High School band will be there to aid in encouraging the girls to "Fight—fight—fight—team—fight."

Club Is To Give A Comedy In Four Acts

"The Commuters," a comedy in four acts, will be presented by the Gothic Literary club at the High School Auditorium, Thursday evening, March 6, at 8:15 o'clock.

The story tells in a humorous way of the matrimonial experience of a young couple devotedly happy, who reside within commuting distance of New York The husband has a boon companion named "Sammy" Fletcher, a friend, dating back to college days, and a bachelor who is in the wife's bad books because he had been responsible for her husband's innocent, but annoying departure, from the straight and narrow path.

The husband, desirous of squaring his friend, and at the same time interest him in suburban life, invites him to spend a few days in the country in order that he may also participate in the joys of a commuter.

The fun starts when the friend is ushered into the house. The coolness of the wife as evidence by her reception makes itself manfest in a temporary disagreement between husband and wife. Here the friend tries to play the part of gentle peacemaker and in so doing embroils everyone in trouble connected with the household, and also half the village.

The depicting of the pet hobbies, dilemmas, predicaments and pastimes of the suburbanites savors malice and with delightful humor and the misjudged Broadway bachelor, who is induced to try rural joys when he is in no condition to appreciate it, furnish fun enough to keep the laughs coming with battledore and shuttlecock rapidity.

LAYMAN IN AN ADDRESS

Mr. Ettlinger of Monessen preached a sermon of strong appeal last evening on the text. "Behold I Stand at the Door and Knock." The sermon was aptly illustrated by the speaker's experiences in France during the Great War.

Communion tomorrow morning will close the week of special services at the M. E. church.

Burglars Try To Get Into A Residence

Burglars attempted to gain an entrance to the home of Dr. S. C. Stahlman, in Howard street, Monongahela, Wednesday night, while members of the household were absent. They were foiled in their attempt to open the front door of the home.

Evidence of an attempt to enter the home by windows nd doors was found when the family returned. Two holes had been drilled in the front door in an attempt to open it. The police investigated, but no trace of the burglars could be found. They were likely the same who successfully entered the B. F. Forsythe home in Sampson street and the George E. Sorrick residence in Try streets, that city, two weeks ago while members of each household were absent More than $800 in valuables were taken from the Forsythe home while the Sorrick home was ransacked and jewelry and furnishings of value were stolen. Despite the fact that a police patrol is being maintained in the hill district, where the robberies occurred, no suspects have been arrested Last week robbers gained an entrance to a Monongahela physician's office in Main street and stole several articles of value.

HONOR HASTINGS ON HIS NATAL DAY

A large number of the Elk friends of Thomas B. Hastings 416 Lincoln avenue, helped him to celebrate one of his few birthday anniversaries last evening in the grill room of the Elks club. Mr. Hastings was 76 years old yesterday and being born on February 29, he does not have the pleasure of having birthday anniversaries as often as most people. The social affair last evening was a complete surprise to the honored guest, and a jolly evening was spent. An excellent buffet luncheon was served. This was Mr. Hasting's Eighteenth birthday."

Mr Hastings is a pioneer resident of Charleroi, coming here with the Charleroi Land company one year before thesale of lots, 1889. He was in charge of the gas lines, and upon the completion of the company's business Mr. Hastings and the Hon J. K Tener established the Charleroi Gas company, which they later sold to the present Greensboro Gas company. Mr. Hastings then took up general contracting and supervised the installation of the Charleroi sewer system and also the street paving He is now employed as street commissioner and is very capably and efficiently performing these duties

THIEVES TRY TO STEAL THEN FIRE AUTOMOBILE

A Packard touring car owned by F. D. Crane, of Castle Shannon, was damaged by fire Thursday evening on the Library road near Library. The machine was standing in the road at the home of D. Frank Wilson where Mr. Crane and his family was spending the evening, when it caught fire. It was blazing freely when discovered by members of the Wilson family. By using water and chemical extinguishers, the flames were checked and finally put out, but not before some damage was done to the motor. Following an investigation it was discovered that the machine had been tampered with and thieves attempting to steal the machine had possibly set fire to it. The gasoline feed pipe had been shut off before Crane went to the Wilson home and it is likely that thieves attempting to run the car were examining the motor with matches and the gasoline fumes ignited. A portion of the carburetor was found to have been tampered with when Crane examined the car after the fire was extinguished. The damage is covered by insurance.

Campaign To Squelch The Reckless Taxicab Driver Has Been Begun

Harrisburg, March 1—(United Press)—A campaign throughout the state to put out of business the reckless taxicab drier and the nomad jitney operating without the necessary certificate has been begun by the Public Service Commission.

In Philadelphia state officials and local authorities have already made plans to end law violations of this kind. hecommission has granted authority to the Philadelphia police to act against offending taxi operators.

Under arrangements worked out in Philadelphia, which will be followed in other places, the city will supply police facilities the commission lacks.

"After we have cleaned up the taxicab situation in Philadelphia," W D R. Ainey, chairman of the Public Service Commission, told the United Press, we will go to Pittsburg, Scranton, Wilkes Barre, Erie and other larger cities of the state where we plan similar action. We hope to obtain the same fine cooperation in those cities the mayor and city solicitor of Philadelphia have extended us."

MONUMENT TO JOHN MITCHELL

Hazelton, March 1—(United Press)—The magnificent monument to the late John Mitchell which is being erected by the United Mine Workers of America in Scranton will be dedicated May 30. 1924, Neal J. Ferry, member of the monument committee has announced.

Already plans are being made for impressive ceremonies in which all sections of the hard coal fields will have part. None of the miners will work that day and many meetings will be arranged.

The original plan called for dedication of the monument on Mitchell day, last November, but the work was not finished in time.

Mitchell was international president of the miners union for many years and conducted the great strike of 1902. The miners remain idle one day every year in commemoration of the leader.

The Motorists Are Developing A Change Of Mind, Is Report

Harrisburg, March 1—A rapidly developing and radical change is taking place among motorists in their attitude of mind toward automobile or motor clubs, says J. Clyde Myton, secretary of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation in a report made public.

The old idea that a motor club was merely an organization for the purpose of holding "club runs" and other social functions has been entirely displaced by the modern conception of an organization of motorists for the purposes of self protection and service. In fact there is a growing feeling that these organizations should not be called "clubs" and that the name is a misnomer.

The result of this development has been to greatly stimulate the growth of existing clubs or associations of motorists and to start the organization idea in many communities throughout the state. There are at the present time not less than ten new clubs in process of organization and several defunct clubs are being revived.

All this activity among motorists is due, according to officials of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, which comprises 62 of the 80 clubs in the state, to the arousing of motorists to a realization that they constitute the most heavily taxed class of citizens in the Commonwealth and that the only way for them to remedy conditions is in organziation. Hence the forming clubs and entering the federation and through it the state and national organizations. [illegible]

AS TO THE WEATHER.

We overheard a Charleroi man say a few days ago that he likes cold weather, that it "fills him with pep," and all that sort of thing. And then and there we were willing to stake our last summer's straw hat that he never had to drive an old road wagon when the tires were screaking on a frozen road and with a team that moved like snails. He didn't have to drink his water out of a frozen bucket with a gourd that was second cousin to an icicle; he probably didn't have to sleep in a room that hadn't a fireplace, grate or stove and didn't have to get up in the morning to view ice pictures on the window panes that looked like somebody had splattered them with buttermilk. On top of that, he didn't have to shovel his way to the barn two squares away and milk from two to six cows everyone of them with a deadly ball of mud frozen in her tail right where it was convenient for her to switch it around and catch a fellow alongside the head and right after breakfast he didn't have to walk two miles through a wind so raw a fellow was afraid to rub his ears for fear they would break off in his hand.

We can stand our share of cold weather, but when it comes to liking it, there's nothing to it. We've no complaint against what the poet calls "a shrewd and nipping air," but when we got out of the sled and skate age and started in fighting the world for our own share of the bread and butter that was being passed around, we got out of the habit of liking cold weather. We learned that a fellow does more and better work with his coat off and his sleeves rolled up—so they can mark us up as disagreeing with the fellow who says he likes cold weather—and they can send us the shirt-sleeve brand all the year round if they want to.

In the course of about thirty years Mr. Munsey has bought up ten newspapers in New ork City alone and has kept only three of them alive, being said to take "undisguised pride in his record as executioner." Mr. Curtis did not figure in the role of executioner when recently he bought the New York Evening Post,but some observers are inclined to the opinion that death would have been more merciful, for the historic old Manhattan journal seems to have become merely an evening edition of the Philadelphia Morning Ledger, carrying the same foregn correspondence and some of the same editorials. Sic transit gloria mundi.

According to a compilation by the Federal Reserve bank of Minneapohis, since August, 1900, to date more than 450 banks have closed in Minnesota, the Dakotas and Montana, not including those which closed and later reopened. Many of these were small institutions, but the record shows that the farmers and merchants of that section have been hard hit during the past three years. This helps to explain the political upheavals in the Northwest.

The English-speaking world may ignore the change of Petrograd to "Leningrad' without serious complications. Already we disregard the exact forms of many foreign names of cities, in the case of Italy, for example, calling Firenze "Florence," Venezia, "Venice," "Livorna", "Leghorn" etc., etc.

Women's clothing recently unearthed in Egypt said to be 2642 years old is also said to be identical in style with that worn by fashionable Egyptians today. If Egyptian women are much like European and American, it may be safely concluded that meanwhile the styles changed about 1321 times.

There is a "K. K. K." in the Philippines also, but the three "K's" stand for "Kalastanser Kagalanagland Katipanan," or "the supremely perfected and virtuous union for freedom." Naturally such an organization is giving Governor-General Wood a good deal of trouble.

Josephus Daniels, former Secretary of the Navy, says restoration of the oil properties is more important than punishment of the guilty manipulators. Another observer gives punishment the first place. Presumably it is too much to expect both.

Senator Walsh of Montana says no testimony of the Secretary of the Navy could carry any weight because [illegible] "knows nothing about [illegible] It is perhaps fortunate [illegible] Daniels did not [illegible]

EAT ICE CREAM FOR HICCOUGHS.

According to an exchange, an attorney arguing a case in court was suffering from a severe attack of hiccoughs.

"Go out and eat a plate of ice cream," advised the judge, "That will stop your trouble. It chills the vocal chords and puts them in order."

It did.

There are a number of independent citizens who want to learn the rules, so they can break them.

If bare feet are immoral, the Bible is pretty well crowded with wicked ladies—and some men not above reproach.

Perhaps the reason the wife is called the better half is because she is the most expensive half—and worth more.

A man who was lecturing on the importance of women's work, said: "Take women out of society, and what would follow?" "I would," said a man in the audience.

It will probably never be definitely settled just when middle age begins and ends.

Judge Johnson,who has been arrested thirty-two times in the last five years, thinks it is because he is poor. But the fact is, Judge was arrested because he is a poor citizen.

GOTHAM, SHORT-CHANGE ARTIST

Are you more interested in people or things? Would you rather accumulate friends or dollar bills? That is practically the way a successful young woman lawyer puts the question of city vs. town. The town, she is sure, offers more friendships. The city may give you a higher pile of cash—if you succeed above the average. Otherwise the city short-changes you both ways, she believes.

If actions speak louder than words, it is significant that Bessie Newsom, A. B., A. M., LL. B., Phi Beta Kappa (that's the scholarship one, you know), national president of Kappa Alpha Theta (that's a social one that's said to take in only brains plus good looks), moved from Washington to Oklahoma City and Oklahoma City to Hot Springs, Ark.

The moves were dictated by anything but fear of failure. In Washington, Miss Newsom, with all her degrees, was a member of a successful firm and was made an associate member of the legal and advisory war board of the city.

In Oklahoma City, a place on the state Democratic speakers' bureau, an income above the average salary, a practice that brought her "warmth of reception and genuine interest," are a few of the early successes attained.

The story in Hot Springs is, she says, "just beginning to be made." A digest of Arkansas laws is on the program for the near future. Her fellow townswomen describe her as "a woman who has won a place for not only herself, but for other women in public affairs. Though yet in her twenties, she is one of the best-informed citizens of the entire country on topics of the day and national and international affairs. Withal she is a winsome, womanly girl, and enjoys the good times of her home club as well as the more serious affairs of her public career."

SCOUT DUFFLE BAG

BY H. S. HALL,
Scout Executive.

SCOUTS COMPETE FOR CHAMPIONSHIP.

The big Scouting Championship of the winter program was held Thursday evening, February 28, at the Sixth Street school in Donora, when all Scouts from Monessen, Donora, Charleroi and Monongahela met to decide the question of supremacy in Scouting events. In this one event,the entire Council was welded together and there was splendid fellowship as well as sportsmanship shown. The meet was close in every respect, but nevertheless sportsmanship was prominent.

A great number of the parents were present to see the result of ten months of Scouting in the Valley, and all felt that their time and effort had been well spent.

SUCCESSFUL START OF SCOUTMASTERS' COURSE.

The Scoutmasters of the Valley met at Monessen, February 23, at the Junior High School gymnasium, for their first meeting of the Scoutmaster's Training Course. A program based on "learn by doing" amply provided an opportunity for the Scoutmasters to become more familiar with the work they are endeavoring to carry on. Among other numbers on the program, there was a very interesting First Aid demonstration, and the evening was brought to a close by a treat given by the Monessen Scoutmasters.

The next meeting of the course will be held in Donora, at the Sixth Street school, on Saturday, March 1, beginning at 7:30 p. m. The following program will be carried through under expert leadership:

7:30—Regular opening veremony. Troop business. Announcements.

8:10—Patrol Organization, Hiram S. Hall, Scout Executive.

8:25—Instruction in First Aid. Fractures and Dislocations, G. H. Withers and team.

9:25—Instruction in Games. Circle Games, Hiram S. Hall, Executive.

10:00—Closing Ceremony. The Big Surprise.

The Donora Scoutmasters will act as hosts on this occasion and provide a big surprise. In addition, Mr. A. F. White, one of Donora's prominent men in civic enterprises, will speak on "The Good Turn." A good attendance is hoped for at this second meeting.

PATROL GOOD TURN CONTEST.

On March 1, the Patrol Good Turn contest will start. The details have been completed and worked out to provide for a keen interest in the competition. This contest will run until June 1, and at that time the Patral in each town which has done the greatest number of Good Turns will be given a Scout axe, one to each member of the winning Patrol.

The Scoutmasters will act as the judges, but a Committee from each town has been appointed to act in the capacity of final Court of Appeal. No Good Turn will be signed or will count unless at least five boys in the Patrol take part in it. All Good Turns must be in writing. These boys are now looking for an opportunity to be of service to the public, for which they will accept no money or tips of any kind. On the other hand, the Scout authorities are asking that the public provide such opportunities for the boys, but that they are careful not to take advantage of the boys' willingness to do a Good Turn.

MONONGAHELA ATTENDANCE CONTEST.

The Attendance contest among the Monongahela Scouts is now in full swing. The prize, which was donated by Mr. J. Scott Skelly, prominent Rotarian and popular man in Monongahela, will be awarded to the first troop which has the most perfect attendance record. This contest will continue until June 1, taking in all regular meetings.

Very detailed plans have been made Hikes, Good Turns, First and Second Class Tests. Each Scoutmaster will receive a copy of the rules and regulations. The interest that Mr. Skelly has shown in the particular matter may result in similar interest being shown by other men in the other towns to stimulate the Troop Efficiency program.

MONONGAHELA COMMISSIONERS' DEPARTMENT COMPLETED.

Quite a few plans have been made in developing the Commissioners' Department in Monongahela and at last definite arrangements have been made for providing that city with two Commissioners.

Rev. Alfred Johnson, who was appointed Commissioner some time ago, succeeded Rev. Kinports, who wished to go back to his Community Troop as Scoutmaster. He has been Scoutmaster in this Troop for a number of years and has formed a very close attachment for the boys. Rev. Johnson is proving very capable in handling this position. He is an experienced Commissioner, having served in the Allegheny Council for about five years.

Mr. Merle Liggett, popular manager of the Prudential Life Insurance Co., and member of the Community Club, has agreed to serve as Deputy Commissioner. His work will consist of building up a Board of Examiners, and working out a program of Scout activities.

NOTICE TO PRINTERS.

Sealed proposals will be received by the County Controller, at his office Court House, Washington, Pa., until 11 o'clock a. m., Tuesday, March 18, 1924, and to be opened immediately thereafter, for the printing and delivering of approximately 70,000 Official Ballots and 14,000 Specimen Ballots for the Spring Primary of 1924: number of ballots for each political party, with specifications to be supplied at theoffice of the County Commissioners.

Happy Thrift

Happy thrift doesn't mean doing without what you want. It means doing without what you thought was what you wanted—and found wasn't. It means doing without such mistakes before you mistake them.

The only insurance against buying wares you don't want is knowing wares advertised. You can depend upon home furnishings, clothes, foods you see pictured and described everywhere. They are what other folks want, buy and are thrifty about. Wide enjoyment lowers their prices. Thrift again! And they serve to the very limit of their claims.

DANCE HALLS IN GOTHAM ARE PARTLY IMMORAL

New York, March 1. — (United Press).—Public dance halls of New York are 20 percent immoral, according to an official report of investigators who have completed a four months survey.

"Closed halls," where men are forbidden to bring partners and girls from the streets and from the public high schools mingle as hired "instructresses" at the beck and call of yellow men were described as the worst.

The girls in these places are forced to dance 70 times a night to eke out a living wage of $20 a week. They are paid four cents a dance.

Twenty-one such places were listed on the East Side. Most of the men who patronize the places are described by the committee of investigation, which included prominent clubwomen, as "socially undesirable" orientals. The halls are declared to be a product of the Barbary Coast of San Francisco.

"Appalling conditions of immorality" are declared to exist in Greenwich Village, where complaint is made against both sanitary and moral codes.

Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, chairman of the Commercial Recreation committee of the New York City recreation committee and the women's city club, who presented the report, declared that in two of the big "dance palaces" on Broadway, men are being openly solicited and liquor sold.

RELIGION IS BASIS OF DIVORCE SUIT

New York, (United Press)—William H. Griffin, New York lawyer, has answered his wife's suit for divorce by asserting that their differences are due to the fact that Mrs. Griffin is a modernist, while he has been, and remains, a fundamentalist.

In her complaint, Mrs. Griffin charged misconduct at Atlantic City, and that her husband failed to show her affection. But Griffin says the trouble is due to "the plaintiff's views regarding religion." hey were married in New Orleans in 1906.

"The plaintiff favors the school of thought of which the Rev. Percy Stickney Grant is the most conspicuous exponent at the present time, and his 14-year-old daughter, through her mother's influence has reached a state of mind in which she refuses to accompany her father, an orthodox Episcopalian and member of the diocesan organization, to church, declaring she does not believe in the divinity of Christ, the miracles and numerous other articles of recognized Christian faith." The lawyer's answer submitted by a law partner, reads in part.

In Society's Realm

The Zananna Bible class of the Methodist Episcopal church will hold its regular meeting Tuesday, March 11 instead of Tuesday, March 4, as previously announced. The affair will be in the form of a covered dish social.

An interesting meeting of the Athene club was held yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. W. Ferman of Lookout avenue with a good attendance. Two excellent papers were read; one by Mrs. D. E. Sloan, "New World Highways—Ancient and Modern" and another by Mrs. Ferman, "Pan Americanism." The roll call was responded to by giving the names of famous highways.

The members of the Merry Menders Sewing Circle held their regular weekly meeting at the home of Mrs. William Stopp Jr. of Fifth street, last night. The chief diversions of the evening were sewing and was enjoyed by all. The hostess assisted by Mrs. Alberta Bertouille served a dainty luncheon at the close of the evening. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Palfrey of Eighth street, Friday, March 7.

Mrs. Wilbur Rensel and brother, Cecil Schmieler, entertained at their home on Fallowfield avenue last evening in honor of their mother, Mrs. Gertrude Schmieler, who celebrated her birthday anniversary yesterday. There were twenty guests present who passed a pleasant evening in card playing. Mrs McCann and Mrs Kuth winning the favors. Near the close of the evening a delicious luncheon was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Rose Rensel and Miss Eva Bohs. Mrs. Schmieler received many beautiful and useful gifts

BETTER BALL TEAM THAN LAST YEAR

According to Manager D. Clore Mathers, in an interview had with him yesterday, Charleroi is to have a better baseball team this year than was the stellar organization of last year. Of course, the majority of the old faces will doubtless be seen in the lineup, but Mr Mathers is casting his lines for new players, and has a portion of the men he wants practically signed.

Harry Beatty, who pitched consistently for Charleroi last year, has been signed for the season, and Mr. Mathers is endeavoring to have Eddie Artman, the crack harler of the W. M. Turners, affix his name as a member of the local aggregation. It will be recalled that during the season of 1923, Artman stopped the long winning streak of the Homestead Grays, holding them to a few hits and beating them easily. In addition to Artman's probable signing, Mr. Mathers is negotiating with Catcher Darr of last year's Carnegie Elks club—a strong batter and an excellent thrower to bases, and he expects to secure him.

Mr. Mathers is arranging to get two or three men positions in the mills of the vicinity, and if he does, the players coming will add material strength to the nine. He said yesterday that he will have Davis, Anderson and Edmondson, the latter-named formerly with the Pardue College nine, in the outfield, and he will endeavor to hold Lew Phillips here. In the infield, it is assured that at least two of the places will be filled by last year's players, but the other two are more or less problematical.

The season will open on or about May 3 or 10, depending on the weather and ground conditions.

14 PERSONS ARE CALLED BEFORE THE COMMITTEE

Washington, March 1—(United Press)—In an effort to clear up hidden meanings in the McLean telegrams, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, chief investigator of the Senate oil committee, called for the presence of 14 persons before the committee today.

Those summoned were mentioned in the messages sent to Edward B. McLean, publisher of the Washington Post and former secretary of the Interior Fall relating to the efforts of McLean and Fall to avoid testifying

Meantime the war department's most skillful code expert was set to work by the committee to decide the messages.

Those subpoened include a White House secret service man, a White House telegrapher, a secretary in the department of justice and a director ther he had $100,000 in the bank at Walsh wants to know especially why McLean wanted E. W. Smithers, telegrapher at the White House to in between Washington and Palm Beach where Fall and McLean were staying in January.

E. W. Starling, of the White House secret service, was called to explain a message he sent to "Wilkins" in Hopkinsville, Ky., at McLean's request. The message ordered Wilkins to Palm Beach at once to see McLean.

E. S. Rochester, a secretary in the department of justice, was summoned to tell further details of his message to McLean "tipping" the publisher that the committee was investigating his bank account to ascertain whether he had $100,000 in the bank at the time he said he loaned that amount to Fall.

Fred Starek, director of the war finance corporation, was subpoened to tell what important business he had to transact with McLean as suggested in the telegrams.

Francis McAdoo, son of William G McAdoo, was called to tell what legal advice he gave McLean about testifying.

All the others subpoened are employes of McLean whose names were found in the messages. They include Ira E Bennett, editor of the Washington Post, John Major, who is McLean's "man Friday," George B. Fraser, secretary, William O. Luckstein, secretary William Wiley of the Cincinnati Enquirer, Mary Suigley, telephone operator at the Post, J. F. Fitzgerald, formerly connected with the Post and J. W. Hammett.

FORBES IN FIGHT TO REGAIN HIS GOOD NAME

Washington, March 1. — (United Press).—Col. Charles R. Forbes, former head of the Veterans' bureau, today began preparations for a fight for his liberty and good name.

Refusing to comment on the bribery indictment returned against him late yesterday by a grand jury in Chicago, Forbes after conference with his counsel, James Easby-Smith, said merely that arrangements will be made within a day or two to have Forbes go before a United States commissioner here and give bail of $6,000 for his appearance in Chicago when he is wanted.

It is indicated that his trial is likely to result in discloures even more sensational than those before the Senate committee which led to the calling of the grand jury and the indictment of Forbes and J. W. Thompson, Chicago and St. Louis contractor.

In the Senate's investigation, testimony of scores of witnesses centered about the charge that Forbes had entered into a conspiracy to allot hospital construction contracts to favored contractors.

Elias H. Mortimer, Philadelphia, former intimate associate of Forbes, testified that he had given Forbes $5,000 in a bathroom in the Drake Hotel, Chicago, as part payment to Forbes for favors rendered the Thompson firm which Mortimer represented.

Mortimer also testified Forbes had agreed to a division of all construction between two groups

AUTO BUSINESS IS DOING WELL

Employment in the Ford Motor Company organization is now at the highest point in the company's history and reflects in a general way the prosperous condition existing in the country as well as in the automobile industry.

There are approximately 157,000 workers employed in Ford industries in the United States, according to recent figures. Of these, more than 24,000 work in branch assembly plants.

The biggest increase in the number employed at any one place during the last year was made at the River Rouge plant of the company. A year ago, 28,000 men were employed there, while today, there are nearly 42,000 workers on the payroll.

Other manufacturing units, including the Lincoln car plant at Detroit, and the plants at Kearner, N. J., Hamilton, Ohio, Green Island, N. Y., Poughkeepsie, N. Y., employ close to 11,000 men.

Smaller plants around Detroit give employment to more than 600, while at the present time there are over 4,000 men at work on the company's timber and iron ore properties in the upper peninsula of Michigan.

Furnaces in Kentucky and West Virginia are giving employment to more than 3,500 men, and the Detroit, Toledo and Ironton, the Ford railroad, employs in excess of 2,500 men.

There are in addition to all these some 700 employes in the Henry Ford Hospital at Detroit, more than 700 in the Henry Ford Trade School at Highland Park, and there are more than 11,000 employes in the foreign branches of the company.

PASSING OF BILL PLEASES LEADERS

Washington, March 1 — (United Press)—Mellon may disapprove and Coolidge be only half pleased, but Republican administration leaders in the House today are publicly on the passage of the tax bill there late yesterday. For it bears the label 'Republican," because the Progressives who all along had been standing with the Democrats in a firm coalition, came over at last to their own party.

This development was held by administration leaders from the capitol to the White House to overshadow mere details of a tax bill. For it was taken to mean that the LaFollette Progressives, despite their strong disagreement with the Conservative wing of the Republican party on most things, are not ready to break away from Republican ranks on major issues, if it is possible by compromise to remain in the party fold.

LaFollette himself was held responsible today for swinging his followers in the House over to the Longworth tax compromise which permitted the Republican majority to claim authorship of the bill as it was passed and sent to the Senate. He is understood to have advised acceptance of the Longworth proposal.

A Millionaire.

To be a millionaire in the United States a man must have $1,000,000; in England £1,000,000; in France, 1,000,000 francs. In his own country a man must possess a million in the currency of his country to be termed a millionaire.

It is because gold is rare, that gilding has been invented, which without having its solidity, has all its brilliancy. Thus, to replace the kindness we lack, we have devised politeness which has all its appearance.—De Levis.

CAMPAIGN TO SQUELCH

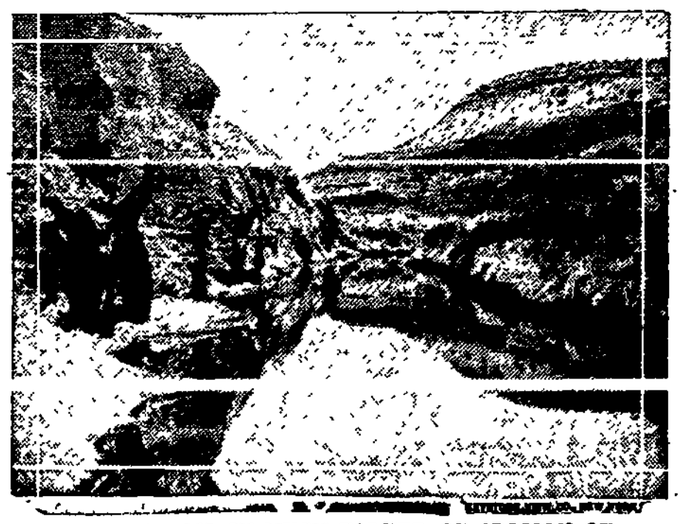
eral days ago, thecommission chairman was leaving a hotel there when he noticed a disreputable looking taxi standing at the curb.

"It was the worst looking taxicab or jitney I have ever seen," Ainey said.

He noted the license number and when he returned to Harrisburg he had the cab investigated. He learned it had no certificate of public convenience and its passengers were without insurance protection the law provides.

Or another occasion Ainey was riding in a touring car. A taxi traveling rapidly drove straight for the automabile in which he was riding. At thelast moment, when but a few feet away and it seemed impossible to prevent a collision, the taxi driver suddenly swerved his machine missing the other car by inches.

The last experience was "the straw that broke the camel's back" and Ainey returned to Harrisburg determined to end reckless and unlawful jitney operating.



LAKE OF OIL IN MUCH TALKED OF SECTION OF WYOMING

For miles around the Teapot Dome Section of Oil Lease fame, the topography is similar. Barren and rugged acres are relieved somewhat here and there by stunted vegetation. Oil is plentiful and the lakes are so contaminated, as to be veritable lakes of oil, where no ducks or wild fowl can live. This scene is near Lander, Wyo.
